Clay's Corner

Come now, you who say, "Today or tomorrow, we will go to such and such a city, and spend a year there and engage in business and make a profit." Yet you do not know what your life will be like tomorrow. You are just a vapor that appears for a little while and then vanishes away. Instead, you ought to say, "If the Lord wills, we shall live and also do this or that." But as it is, you boast in your arrogance; and all such boasting is evil. Therefore, to one who knows the right thing to do, and does not do it, to him it is sin.
-James 4:13-17

Looking at all the things around us that we think we have control over, I have come to the conclusion that we live in a society that has no idea just how little we actually do control.

We think we can control our destinies by having the right job and doing that job well. So, we work hard and build on our dreams and then the job disappears. We find the perfect love and we plan for the future and we build a home. We dream of a family and are blessed with children and all is going according to the plan and... sickness or death or divorce happen, and all is lost.

We dream of the perfect vacation getaway. We just know the thing we need to relax lies out there in that beautiful Caribbean Sea and so we save and save and plan the date, purchase the tickets and pack our bags. The cruise line has assured us of smooth sailing. But that storm just blew up out of nowhere. And the hotel resort where we were booked to spend a week, no longer exists.

We plan for the future because we think we have control of our lives. But ask yourself this question the next time you jump in your car for a trip to the city, "Which one of these other drivers is texting someone when they should be stopping at the red light I am approaching?" "Which one of these other drivers is about to have a heart attack and cause an accident?"

The only thing certain in this life is that one day we will stand before the Lord. And it is for that date that there is only one thing we have control over, preparation for that meeting. If we are not prepared, we will once again find ourselves without control over the outcome of our destiny.

Jesus. He is the way. He is the life. He is in control. Placing our confidence, our hope, and our lives in Him assures us control over our eternal destiny. "He who believes and is baptized will be saved..." – Mark 16:16
